AGREEMENT

for scientific and educational cooperation between the Institute of Atmospheric Sciences and Climate of the Italian National Research Council (CNR-ISAC, Italy) and Faculty of Geography at Lomonosov Moscow State University (Russian Federation)

The aim of this agreement is to extend international cooperation between the Institute of Atmospheric Sciences and Climate of the Italian National Research Council (CNR-ISAC) and the Faculty of Geography at Lomonosov Moscow State University (MSU) in the field of environmental scientific research.

SECTION 1. The purpose of the Agreement is to provide links for joint participation in international projects, experience exchange, joint research, scientific exchange of staff, research staff and postgraduates.

SECTION 2. This Agreement is based on the existing friendly relationship between the two institutes, especially in the interaction between the atmospheric dynamic modeling products, by CNR-ISAC, and coastal processes modeling in the Arctic region, on by MSU, for the purposes of scientific research on environmental monitoring and assessment of actual meteorological conditions and eventual climate change in the Arctic regions. The two parties are in agreement and hope to develop co-operation in these and in additional areas.

SECTION 3. Researcher O. Drofa is appointed as a responsible person to cooperation from the side of ISAC-CNR, and Leading Researcher Fellow S.A. Ogorodov is appointed as a responsible person from the side of the Faculty of Geography at Lomonosov Moscow State University.

SECTION 4. The Agreement has been prepared and signed in two original copies in English language.

SECTION 5. The Agreement does not imply any expense.

SECTION 6. The Agreement will come into force on the date of signature and is valid for a period of 5 (five) years by mutual agreement of both parties.
